CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress

There seems little likelihood, the true story of Pearl Harbor will be given to the American people prior to the November election, now that Administration forces have been able to block the enactment of legislation requiring the trials at court martial of Admiral Kimmel and General Short within the next three months, and have extended the time for instigating such proceedings for at least one year. To make doubly sure that no public trial is held soon, Attorney General Biddle has rendered another of his famous legal decisions to the effect that Congress has no control over fixing the time of court martial. All of this has taken place in spite of the fact that Admiral Kimmel has written letters to Members of Congress demanding an immediate trial. There is a distinct feeling in Washington circles that once the full truth of what happened at Pearl Harbor is told, it will be found that officials other than the military commanders in Hawaii were at least partially responsible for the tragedy of December 7, 1941.

There has been a growing concern, both in Congress and throughout the country, over the alarming increase in the number of strikes and other labor disturbances that have been so seriously interfering with the war effort recently. Some Administration spokesmen are trying to evade responsibility for the present situation by claiming the Smith-Connally Act, which was passed by the Congress over the President's veto for the purpose of controlling labor disturbances, has proven a failure. Just how it can be determined that the Smith-Connally Act is unworkable to enforce it, is hard to understand. Thus far Attorney General Biddle has seemingly been too busy to give any attention to the violators of the Act.

That the campaign activities of Sidney Hillman's Political Action Committee will be under continuous and careful scrutiny from how on until November seems certain. The Senate already has named a committee to keep a check on campaign procedure, while the House has a resolution pending for the creation of a similar committee. Last week Chairman Spangler of the Republican National Committee issued a statement in which he made public a critical letter written to Attorney General Biddle demanding a reversal of his previously given legal opinion that the Hillman Political Action Committee was not in violation of the Smith-Connally Act, and insisting that the Federal authorities proceed to enforce the law.

The House is expected to begin consideration some time this week, or early next week at least the latest of the bill providing for the extension of the Price Control Act, under which the Office of Price Control Law so as to safeguard against the establishment of further subsidy programs without the approval of the Congress, place restrictions upon the operations of the so-called "Kangaroo Courts" under the present OPA setup, and assure to citizens the right of judicial review of OPA decisions by the Federal Courts.

The Administration's Good Neighbor Policy and Lend-Lease Program in South America hit a bit of rough sailing last week, when Lend-Lease tanks and arms were used by revolutionists in Ecuador to assist President DelRio, who recently visited the United States as a guest of President Roosevelt. At the height of the revolutionary outbreak DelRio sought sanctuary with the United States diplomatic corps, and it is understood he will soon take up residence in his country. In the meantime a new Administration is in power down Ecuador way—thanks to Uncle Sam's generous gifts of tanks and guns.

During the past two or three weeks a number of deaths have occurred in the Washington area from Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, a dangerous and highly fatal disease which is transmitted to human beings from ticks infesting the grass and woodslands of this section. The disease gets its name from its place of origin, but has spread throughout the nation and especially seems to be virulent in this section of the country this year. U. S. Public Health Service scientists have developed a serum that serves as a preventative and is helpful in the treatment of the disease when used in time. Outbreaks of Spotted Fever are expected in other parts of the country—so be careful of ticks, and don't use the bare hands when delicting dogs or other animals.

SOIL TESTING LABORATORY IN COUNTY, JUNE 15

The soils testing laboratory of Ohio State University will be in Greene County, Friday, June 1 to analyze soil samples. Soil technicians who will accompany the laboratory will make recommendations regarding the kinds and amounts of fertilizers and lime required for different crops. Soil samples may be left at the county agent's office previous to the arrival of the laboratory. They will be analyzed and recommendations mailed to the owners in taking a soil sample, it is important that soil from six or more locations be taken from the first six inches of soil to secure a good composite sample. One composite sample should be taken from each soil type in each field.

JAMAICAN LABORERS WILL BE DUE SOON

One hundred seventy-five Jamaican laborers are scheduled to arrive at the Farm Labor Camp at Bryan State Park within the next week or ten days. Farmers interested in using these farm laborers are asked to notify E. H. Smith, farm labor assistant or call the county agent. This Jamaican labor was secured by the Greene and Clark county farm labor committees. The men will live in the former CCC barracks at Bryan State Park. Farmers will transport the men from and to the camp daily. The men take their lunch with them and the farmer pays them 50c per hour while on the farm.

MORE FRUIT THIS YEAR

Reports from commercial orchards in Greene County are that a better than average fruit production is expected this year. A good set of apples is reported by most growers and a fair peach crop is in sight. Low temperatures the past winter killed peach buds in some areas.

STRAWBERRY PRICE CEILING

Maximum ceiling which farmers may charge wholesalers and retailers for strawberries has been announced by OPA at 32 1-2c per qt. and 10 1-2c per pint. Farmers who sell direct to consumers are classed the same as Group 1 retail stores and may charge not to exceed 55c per quart and 28c per pint.

ROSE BUGS ARRIVE ON SCHEDULE

The rose chaffer, or rose bug as it is frequently called, which usually appears in swarms about decoration day arrived on schedule this year. Newly formed fruit clusters and the foliage of grape are being attacked, as well as other fruits and ornamental plants. They may be controlled by spraying with lead arsenate, or if only a few low growing plants require protection, hand-picking is as effective and practical as spraying. The work should be done in the early morning when the bugs are inactive and easily caught.

SOLON ELEVATORS SOLD TO OPEKASIT GROUP

The two elevators and the grain and feed business at South Solon operated by Gay Curry and Co., have been sold by the owners, C. M. Kissel and D. J. Allen to the Hamilton Equipment & Grain Center, owned by Opekasit Farms, Inc., with offices in Hamilton. The change was made on Monday. Malcolm McGilliard, who has been connected with the Hamilton company will become manager.

The new owners will continue to handle the same lines but will improve the plant to handle grain crops faster than in the past. Neither Kissel nor Allen have announced their plans for the future.

Fifth War Loan Drive Opens Monday, June 12

The Fifth War Loan drive starts on Monday, June 12th in Greene County under the Chairmanship of Judge Frank L. Johnson. The county quota is $2,600,000.00 which means that each citizen must greatly increase his purchase of bonds. The bonds will be in various denominations as before and solicitors will be able to explain the different issues.

With the invasion now under way and the necessity of more war material and foods, the need for more funds to carry on as our boys have carried on, is necessary.

If you let your solicitor down you let our boys down at a crucial time. Greene county has over-subscribed its bond quota each time. We not only can, but we must fulfill our obligation on the fifth war bond sale.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE GETS RIFE RESIDENCE

Cedarville College has purchased the residence property of Miss Carrie Rife, Clifton road, adjacent to the property now owned by the college. The building is a modern two story residence with three acres of ground. The building is suitable for two large apartments or for a boy's dormitory that will accommodate about twenty boys. The structure is such that an addition can be made to enlarge the capacity for dorm purposes. The building is in good repair and was erected by the late Thomas Crawford. Miss Rife has purchased the Ritchie property on North Main and will soon locate there.

STATE TO AID COUNCIL REPAIR CERTAIN STREETS

Council met in regular session Monday evening when several important items of business were discussed and transacted.

C. E. Masters, chairman of the street committee reported the State Highway Department had informed him several of the streets in town, would be improved. East Xenia ave. and East st. will be resurfaced and all east bound traffic over R. 42, will be routed over these two streets to the intersection of Chillicothe st. and Columbus pike. The East st. bridge has been inspected and found safe for the heavy truck traffic. This will reduce Main st. traffic accordingly.

The Shroades property was the sight of the first Methodist Church in this community. The Shroades residence was torn down after the village purchased the property. Council decided to sell what was part of the Shroades site at the bend in Chillicothe st. The plot has been purchased several years ago to widen the street. What is left is a suitable building site and it was the opinion of council members the remainder should be sold, water assessments and taxes to be included in the purchase price. It will be offered to the highest bidder.

Council voted to pay Chief Marshall $25 a month for use of his automobile in law enforcement, the vote being, unanimous.

There was a lengthy discussion over law enforcement, drunks on the street and gambling. The mayor's report showed fines collected for the month to be $45.

"D-Day" Was "Death-Day" for "Democrat-C"

While Tuesday was "D-Day" for the Invasion, it was "Death-Day" for a Democratic candidate for congress in the 11th Congressional District in the City of New York, neighboring District to Hyde Park. The Democrats having tired of a 30-year rule in that District of a Democrat in Congress, and having soured on the past 11 of Roosevelt and the New Deal, gave the Republican candidate a majority of more than 4,000. There were no official statements from the White House, Browder's Communist headquarters that had endorsed the Democratic candidate or the Democratic leaders. It is surmised Jim Farley, just declined and smiled one of those "I told you so" poses. Of a half dozen late by-elections, the Republicans have won all Democratic vacancies except one outside of the south divide.

HARRY WALLACE WILL BE HIGH SCHOOL COACH

50 Years of College Life

BY ELMER JURKAT

One building which was never officially listed in the catalogue but which was still practically a part of the campus group was Richards Drug Store, more widely known as "Doc's". It closed its doors in 1937, so to students who have arrived since then it is merely legend, but there are still hundreds of people to whom the mere mention of the name brings back a host of pleasant memories.

"Doc", of course, was Mr. Earl Richards, a druggist from West Virginia by way of Selco College, Ohio, Kansas and Columbus, Ohio. He arrived in 1915 just in time for the summer business and proceeded to polish up old Wisterman's store and install a gleaming new soda fountain, and a handsome but sedate ice cream "parlor" in the rear. 1915 was before the time of radio, or dependable automobiles, or even paved streets. The big event of those summers was the annual Coit-Alber Chautauqua up on the college campus, and folks trudging homeward after a session of heat and dust found in the new pharmacy a welcome sanctuary.

"Doc" had been a college athlete and still held an interest in such goings on, it wasn't long until the place developed into a local international house, a meeting place for the young and the young in heart. It became the center of extra-curricular college life, and was the spot where many an evening's enterprise was cooked up, and was always the last stop on student's way home.

The proprietor and his changing staff really provided all the comforts of a modern hostelry. You could eat there, phone or wire, watch the scoreboard windows for sports results, pay bills (or run them up), leave messages (and laundry), meet friends, make new ones, hold a committee meeting or a banquet, purchase theatre tickets (the opera house), or catch a bus. There was always space for recreation up stairs or down, and as to rooming, Rockhold, Orr, and Paul Edmonds managed nicely back in Jack Pierce's old garage office.

Down the years a varied throng passed through "Doc's" doors. Clerks, cooks, students, alumni, tourists, townspeople in varying degrees made the store their headquarters. "Yank" Stephens the cop, "Bud" Fisher—the knee pants student from Pennsylvania hair dresser Zora Smith, Fred Schuler the sports writer, the irresponsible Ann Orr, Bill Nagley with his Oakland and four-note auto horn, Harold Ray and his school bus, big Ed Dieckerling and his dog, the Lyons boys, footballers from Kentucky, Walter the comical colored cook. Comedians Orr and Mulchay from the Burns department, the quartette, Mary Ruth, Jean, Hilma, and Arcelia; Iddings and Lou McLaughlin who played the nickel record machines, the Lumpkins, hotel man and boxer.

Jack Ewbank, Illinois boy with his "Green Dragon" roadster, Dovel and Peters, Ironton pigskinners, Gavin Reilly, the lumberjack, and Charlie Brown the rancher. Clerk Avenelle Brigner, Edna Griffith, who lived on ice cream cones, tall Arthur Findlay, short Harold Hamman, and honey-tongued Charlotte McLeod from "Alabama".

The drug store was a year-round haven. In the winter a fat round stove thawed out sled riders, and students moved to make room for a trip to the coal cave in summer's heat. The place was naturally an oasis of ice cream and gullet-cooling concoctions. If you didn't steer your guy there after a game or an Opera House entertainment you lost more "face" than a captured Japanese general.

It was handy for the customers, but hard on "Doc" and his family who had no more privacy than a gold fish, so with the boys out of college he locked up in 1937. In the spare moments of those last years he had been rabbit raiser, justice of the peace, school Board clerk, and Mayor. When "Doc" said he was retiring, he meant it.

People sometimes forget that the Cedarville College campus plays host to two institutions, the other being a seminary. Its full legal name is The Theological Seminary of the Reformed Presbyterian Church (General Synod) in North America, and it is not only older than the college but is one of the oldest institutions in the United States for the training of young men for the gospel ministry.

The Seminary was organized on May 25th, 1810, in Philadelphia, where the Rev. Samuel Wylie was its first and for some years its only professor. Various difficulties resulted in its removal to New York for three years, then back to Philadelphia, and finally in 1913, to Cedarville. Doctors McKim, McChesney, Jurkat, and Alton were the main instructors for most of its recent years, but there have been others; the Reverends McElhinney, Chesnut, Robinson, and Harriman.

Judge Will Reduce Crop of "War Grass Widows"

In the face of increasing divorce business in the Greene County Common Pleas Court, Judge F. L. Johnson issued a statement Tuesday that wives of men in the armed services assigned outside the state of Ohio need not apply for divorces in the local court.

Judge Johnson said he had notified all attorneys that wives of service men stationed outside of Ohio filing petitions under these circumstances will be denied decrees at least for the duration. According to the Judge he has based his opinion that the Ohio law does not contemplate service men serving abroad, as being non-residents.

The divorce fever has spread all over the nation since the Roosevelt family established a precedent of "Marry'em and divorce 'em". Just whether Judge Johnson's opinion is right or not will never be known until Acty. General Biddle gives his New Deal opinion. One thing can be assured the opinion will have no effect on any additional divorce contemplated now or in the future in the Royal Household. The opinion will be quite a surprise to the crop of "War grass widows" that has sprung up like the mosquito pest on a hot night.

which founded it, the seminary continues to operate under Reformed Presbyterian management and doctrine. This should not be misinterpreted, for students of all faiths are welcome, and a variety of them has at different times been represented. If, before the college started, Dr. Morton said, "Where are we going to get the preachers?", then his question has been answered in part at least in the long list of ministers who have gone out from the local seminary or college to spread the gospel. The roll is so long that only a few can be mentioned. John W. Bickett, Homer McMillan, Alvin Orr, Wallace Cliff, Homer Henderson, Ernest McClellan, Walter Morton, and Woodbridge Usick are but a few of the ministers who attended college here. Ralph Elder, Robert Stewart, James Chesnut, Clyde Markle, Day Kennedy, Dwight McKune, Franklin Trubee and Paul Angell are some names picked at random from those prepared for Christian work by Cedarville's own seminary.

The last fifteen years have seen many changes in college affairs and in the make-up of the student body. One of these is the sections from which they come. In the early twenties more young people were in residence from Pennsylvania, Kansas, Illinois, Kentucky and Michigan. They came on the train, brought along big trunks, and stayed all year, often not even getting home for Christmas. In later times this type of student has been replaced by one whose home is closer to the school. Scholars in recent years have been more likely to live in adjoining counties or townships. They drove home each weekend, and in some cases, every evening. Fewer students were on the streets in the evenings, and the town to a certain extent, became less aware of the college's existence.

The addition of Fraternity Houses and girls' dormitory also helped to centralize student life, and there were fewer roomers to be spread through the homes of the community. Other changes have come in the last decade. Commencement exercises have shifted to the United Presbyterian Church. Other types of entertainment have lessened the need for plays and such, and in some recent years the old town opera house, once the scene of numerous college activities, has gone through almost the entire season unlocked and with only spiders for an audience.

The inauguration of sororities and a fraternity tends to create small related groups instead of the former single student body. The swing toward musical appreciation gradually showed itself in the establishment of a Glee Club, a large college chorus, and numerous vocal quartettes. The college paper was revived by Carma Hostetter, John Murray, and staff in 1934 under the name of "Whispering Cedars", and has continued through the following years.

HIGH-JINKS VARIETY SHOW

The High-Jinks Club, an organization of local girls and boys of high school age, will give a Variety Show in the opera house on Thursday, June 29 at 8:30, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Collins Smith.

The production will be a benefit for the recreational project sponsoring weekly Friday night dances which are held in the College Gym.

The show will include quartette and solo numbers, many of them in costume, and two up-roariously funny one-act plays.

DUPLICATE TO SUFFER DUE TO PLANT CHANGES

Greene county taxing districts, including Cedarville, may suffer considerable loss of tax revenue due to dismantling or raising industrial buildings that have been in the tax duplicate for several hundred thousand dollars. It is estimated the county may lose in valuation for taxation an estimated million dollars in this manner.

We are informed the Wabash Cement Co., Osborn, is closed down for good and the plant is to be junked. Not only will the plant equipment be taken from the duplicate but more than 200 acres of what was once the finest farm-land in the county, is now nothing but a hole in the ground or reconverted land refilled from striping other areas to get the desired stone for cement manufacture.

Cedarville will have a similar experience with the removal of the equipment of the site of the old lime kilns. Just what will become of the paper mill property, now vacant, is another problem. While industry is a going concern the state can assess certain values for taxation, but when a business is discontinued and plant equipment removed, the valuation goes down to nearly nothing.

This being the year for revaluation of all property in the county for taxation and other property expected to be increased at least ten percent on an average, as is being done in all counties, the increase will hardly make up for the loss of industrial concerns. If this situation arises the county, townships, school districts and municipalities will suffer alike, the schools and municipalities feeling the loss the most.

With local governments like everything else costing more each year, the public must stand for a higher valuation on their property for taxation, or an additional levy for increased taxes, or use the pruning knife and cut the garment according to the cloth available.

It is expected the schools will ask for their usual increase in tax rate outside of the ten mill limitation. The village has for a number of years paid its electric bill through a special tax levy. Just how to get additional revenue to compensate for the loss of industrial concerns in the county will be a problem for public officials to solve and then call on the property owners to pay the bill.

COLLEGE SUMMER SCHOOL WILL OPEN MONDAY

The first term of the College Summer School will open next week. Registrations Monday, classes begin Tuesday. During this term pupils of grades who wish to make up back work or who wish to do extra work. This opportunity will not be available the second term. Classes will be in session from 9 to 12 A. M. No afternoon classes. This work will be under the director of elementary education, and offers a fine opportunity to those who will take advantage of it. Parents interested should call the College office.

ARMY NEEDS DRESSINGS; MORE SEWERS WANTED

The army has issued a request for 20,000,000 dressings per month from the national Red Cross and probably will increase the number soon. The Greene County chapter has received a call from the national unit urging completion and shipment of its quotas as soon as possible.

Materials for July have been re-ordered and volunteer workers are asked to help in this important project. The rooms at Cedarville Library are open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons and Tuesday night. Give your support and aid to this worthy call.

OHIO SENATORS VOTE AGAINST SUBSIDY PAYMENTS

Ohio Senators Robert A. Taft and Harold H. Burton, voted with the majority in a 50 to 22 roll call when the senate amended the bill to regulate payment of food subsidies after June 30, '45, without authority of congress. These subsidies must be paid from income taxes off the consumer and the producer and are a sham for vote catching purposes. More income taxes can be expected to make up the deficit for subsidy payments already made.

INVASION DAY A DAY OF PRAYER FOR NATION

"Invasion Day" was what it should have been—a day of Prayer. Nothing ever fell as flat as the New Deal proposal to make the day a holiday with bands, parades and celebration. The public refused to heed the suggestion. The fact that we have so many fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, who have loved ones in the service, made such an appeal for a holiday repugnant to most people. That we must face the sad story of the loss of our young manhood, it is very likely that for days to come there will be prayers on the lips each day of millions of mothers. We consider victory certain but it cannot be had without paying the terrible price.

THOMAS HERBERT CONCEDES DEFEAT

The situation in Republican ranks cleared with a frank admission of defeat on the part of Attorney General Thomas A. Herbert, by Mayor James Garfield Stewart, Cincinnati, for the Republican nomination for governor. Mr. Herbert made no ugly charges against anyone but simply asked for a recount as he had been lead to believe he should have had a larger vote in certain precincts. He has stopped the recount and has sent his congratulations to the Cincinnati Mayor and promises he will give open support to the nominee next November. This leaves no opening for a break in party affairs this fall and should give Mayor Stewart a victory such as he is entitled too.

THE ARMY FOR AVERY BUT NOT STRIKERS

While American youth offer their all for their nation yet 15,000 employees making airplane engines at Lockland, O., go out on a strike because a number of colored mechanics were given tasks along with white members of the CIO. The union claims the strike is unlawful but the men refuse to return to their work. The War Labor Board, CIO controlled by appointment of Roosevelt, orders the men back but they still refuse. Meantime our boys die on the battlefields of France for $50 a month while the $10 a day CIO unionists refuse to back up our forces with airplane equipment. Roosevelt ordered the Army to remove Chairman Avery of the Chicago company put in the street by soldiers to satisfy the union. No suggestion of military force comes from the White House to stop the strike. If not force to back equality of races in war time at least, why not have a prayer appealing to union leaders?

When the Chamber of Commerce in Louisiana or in Florida preach moderate temperature to allure northerners during the summer vacation time, out side of a war period, they will have to keep hid behind the door a bill just introduced in the Legislature in the Pelican state legislature. If passed it will be unlawful for a man to have on his back a coat or a necktie, or both, Sunday and weddings excepted. The law would require seizure of such coat or tie and confiscation of the wearables for the United Nations Rehabilitation Commission, for use where needed. The Huey Long state has nothing on the New Dealers in Washington, and all over the nation. Inington, and all over the nation. That fact there are many Democrats that now honestly believe the party made a mistake in not having Huey for the White House occupant. His chances of living would be just as good as being Senator. It is the brand of Congressman from South of Mason and Dixon line that has given you regimentation on hogs, eggs, milk, tires and gasoline. Huey Long could have done no different had he fallen for the clever Churchill or permitted himself to be tickled under the chin as the Jap pulled on FDR while Pearl Harbor was making history. No wonder Roosevelt does not want to try Kimmel and Short. He dares not if they hold the trump card. Both want immediate trials. Can it be possible that the trump card has the initials, FDR on it?

There a lot of New Dealers, the AAA brand, that are suffering with what might be termed "prickley" heat. With the milk, eggs hog and situation what it is, those who were gungphous enough to swallow the Mason "1914 parity price for farm products," while everybody but soldiers were reaping wartime profits, now find themselves paying top for everything and selling at the bottom. If the pocketbook is a bit flat the farmer still is credited by FDR, Mason, Et-al., as patriotic with the war effort, provided each farmer works longer and harder, no twelve dollar a day to be considered or even an eight hour day on the farm.

A local businessman relates an interesting happening with a customer who some months ago was preaching from the house-tops the benefits of the AAA. This farmer who wears the FDR-Sidney Hillman label on his back as a mouth-piece of the Communists, owed quite a bill to the businessman. When approached for a payment the businessman was told the bill could not be paid until he (the 3-Aer) could sell his hogs. Then the argument started. The 3-Aer may yet be sold on AAA hog regimentation, but one thing is certain he had to borrow the money to pay his debt. The debt no doubt would have mold on it if the merchant had to wait on selling hogs under the Roosevelt-Communist order of signing up a month or two in advance for the sale. Meantime the hogs would be getting fatter and the price going lower per pound. Who is there that sympathize with a 3-Aer that cries about being "robbed" of his hog and corn profit. Sit on the blister Brother—and Smile!

Rome has been saved! FDR did the trick. Regardless of the fact public announcement was made a year ago that the Allies had taken Italy and Mussolini has abdicated, the war has been going on in that sector—and the list of missing, wounded and dead continued to grow. No one has dared to say how many lives were lost. The most the public has learned of the Italian campaign was the fact old "blood and guts Patton" slapped down a serious wounded soldier being carried in from the battlefield and branded a "coward." Thanks to the Senate for not confirming old "blood and guts" for a new title and a higher salary, as recommended by the timid, sympathetic soul in the White House. So far the list of casualties does not contain a "Roosevelt" name. We are not aware just how many by that name are in the armed forces. This week a local mother stopped us to inquire if Rome had fallen and whether any from the royal-household had a part in the victory. In a few days the Elmer Davis censored news may give the public information that Col. Elliott Roosevelt took some interesting pictures of the fray.

Would it be possible, and if so, be legal, according to Attorney General Biddle's interpretation of the corrupt-practices act, that if a group of a million farmers organize to elect a Republican candidate for president by contributing $750,000 or a million, if necessary to that end? Hillman, CIO and other Communists organized for that purpose and have raised over a million according to organized labor leaders. Biddle probably would decide such a movement among farmers was a direct violation of the corrupt practices act.

BANKING SERVICE IN THIS COMMUNITY

The XENIA NATIONAL BANK

Now Entering Its 110th Year

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THIS BANK

"The first bank of Greene County was known as the Bank of Xenia. It opened for business on June 1, 1835 with the following officers: president, John H. Hivling; vice president, John Ewing; cashier, Henry Clark. Later E. F. Drake became cashier. The bank was started as a private enterprise and so continued until 1846, when it was reorganized, under a newly enacted act of the General Assembly with the new name of Xenia Branch of the State Bank of Ohio. Abraham Hivling became the first president of the bank upon its reorganization, while E. F. Drake was continued as cashier.

Drake resigned in 1848 and his place was filled by J. W. Merrick, who had been connected with the bank as a teller. Upon the death of Merrick, John B. Allen became cashier.

The bank continued a successful career until it was reorganized under the national banking act of 1863 and became the First National Bank. Upon the expiration of its charter at the end of twenty years, it was reorganized as the Xenia National Bank, the name by which it is still known.

J. J. Janney, in his history of "The State Bank of Ohio" mentions the name of A. Hivling of the Xenia Branch, as being one of the Board of Managers of State Bank of Ohio, and ends the account by saying,

"It may be safely assumed that no other organization ever existed in the State, including such an array of good men—men remarkable for all that makes good citizens—intelligence—morality—and upright business integrity."

For 109 years this institution has maintained an enviable record for clean conservative banking. In years of war, peace-time, prosperity, and years of depression, the Xenia National has shown evidence of strength that has merited the utmost public confidence. When the demand has been for immediate cash, this institution has shown exceptional liquidity... when the demand has been for credit, we have had the resources available to meet it.

Our policies have always been conservative — We have never given ear to any wildcat schemes — But we have always been willing to go the limit in backing any sound Business Venture or Business Expansion which we have felt would benefit the Community. We do feel that we have had a definite part in the growth of this Community, we hope we may continue to merit the confidence and patronage of the Residents for Years to come.

We were very grateful for the fine response at the Community Prayer meetings Invasion morning and again Wednesday evening. Sometimes it takes such tragedies to bring us to our knees before God. ## A BITE MORE SUGAR

Regardless of the fact there is an abundance of sugar in Cuba and much more in the southern states had growers of sugar cane not been hampered by the AAA restrictions, and with a large fruit crop looming, Washington bureaucrats still hold to the Russian Communistic plan of food distribution while our boys fight for liberty for "the oppressed people." Sugar stamp 32 in War Ration Book 4 will get you five more pounds after June 16 so you can can those 55c-quart ceiling priced strawberries.
